

Remember...
Deuteronomy 8:1-20

Sermon
by King Duncan & Angela Akers

Recently a man was released from prison at the age of 65. Why was he released? Because the DNA and the investigators assigned to his case found him innocent of all charges. In prison for something he didn't do. Sixteen thousand days in jail.

What were the first words he spoke when he stepped outside the prison walls? He lifted his hands and he said, "God is so good. God is so good. God is so good." (1)

The Hebrew people had spent forty years wandering in the Sinai desert after escaping slavery in Egypt. They are now standing on the borders of Canaan, the promised land. Moses is an old man and is about to die. And he gives them instructions for how they are to deal with the new phase of their existence as a people. These instructions could be directed at us. Listen carefully while I read ...
